

Hi, my name is Margie Aliprandi. Happy Holidays.

The next few weeks will bring many special occasions for us to enjoy the company of family and loved ones. As we are reconnecting and reminiscing, undoubtedly the economy and its impact on each of our lives will be a topic of conversation. Rather than taking the dismal and defeated tone, why not make those conversations optimistic and hopeful? Why not strategize about how you as a family can leave a more abundant legacy of health and wealth?

The fact is, some people are going to get wealthy during these economically challenging times. For some, current challenges will create new opportunity. What about you?

Heading into this holiday season, many of us are feeling more stress than ever before about holiday expenses. And January may require the most demanding New Years resolutions ever. Why wait?

During this time of togetherness, you have an opportunity to chart your course around the recession.

Do you realize that by simply redirecting purchases you are already making and teaching others to do the same, that you can create recurring wealth? These are purchases like shampoo, toothpaste, skin care, cosmetics, laundry soap and nutritional supplements. Rather than giving your money to giant corporations and getting so-so products with questionable ingredients in return, why not shop at your own store – get high quality products, good for you and the environment – while investing in YOUR future? We'll teach you how.

Since 1987, Neways International has been improving the health and financial well being of people around the world. Having created over 2000 millionaires (most of them out of the United States), Neways now turns its attention to North America. – and our timing couldn't be better.

Neways is one of the largest manufacturing and distribution companies in the world. Hundreds of thousands of people around the world are using and loving these products – and Neways doesn't even advertise! Instead, they pay people like you and me to tell others about their products. In fact, they paid out over $325 million dollars last year to people like us. As you can see, referral marketing can be a very profitable home business. And – you may not realize this, but while other businesses are laying people off and closing their doors, person-to-person marketing has always thrived during times of economic downturn. Are you starting to see why there is reason for optimism?

More than ever before, people are looking for ways skip this recession. They want to be in control of their financial well being – rather than at the whim of the markets. Talk about a recession-proof business – though some expenditures may go by the wayside, people still wash their hair, brush their teeth, put on deodorant, and do laundry regardless of what's happening in the economy. Believe it or not, Neways just had the largest 2nd and 3rd quarter in the history of the company – and guess where those profits go? Into the pockets of the home based business owners!

Not only is Neways growing – they're very stable. This is no new start up company. We're doing business in 29 countries and have the financial backing of the ivy league schools – Harvard, Princeton, Yale, Stanford, and MIT – they own Neways. Talk about credibility!

By partnering with Neways, you partner with some of the most brilliant business minds and well respected institutions in the world.

Plus, educated consumers are demanding high quality products that are good for themselves and safe for the environment – and Neways fills that need. In fact, Neways was “green” long before green was cool. So they are products you can feel good about using, and good about recommending.

In addition to all of the great things I've mentioned – making money, securing your financial future, using safe and effective products – Neways can change your life. It changed mine.

19 years ago, I found myself divorced – a single mom with three small children and no idea how I was going to continue to pay the mortgage. I didn't want to go back to teaching school and leave my kids at home.... and even if I had, I wouldn't earn enough to cover all my bills. Neways came along at the right time – although I had no experience and no capital, I saw the incredible potential and jumped in with hope and passion. Within a year, I was making more money in a single month, than I could have made in an entire year teaching school. I'm living a life beyond my wildest dreams. I've traveled the world with my children - spending time in places I couldn't have found on a map before Neways. I love being my own boss, working my own hours.... And the people I've met along the way have become life long friends.

Now that income is no longer a pressing need, I do this because I love the sense of contribution – helping people create the lives they want for themselves.

So, as you spend time with those you love this holiday season, and reflect on the years gone by – spend some time planning the future – with hopeful conversation. See the possibilities. Don't wait til January to begin the changes that will help you get control of your life. Start now! You can choose to leave a legacy of health and wealth.

Blessings to you and yours – Happy Holidays.
